Your child will do more than you

The goal of EVERY Christian parent ought to be to get their children to heaven!

(Oh, how I wish that sentence could have said, “The goal of EVERY Christian parent IS to get my children to heaven!” But, unfortunately, that would not be an accurate statement.)

Are you a Christian parent? Do you still have children at home? Is there anything you want MORE than for your children to go to heaven? How do your actions coincide with your answer to that last question?

It is highly unlikely (almost in the region of “it’ll never happen”) that your children will grow up to place more emphasis on the church and its life than you do. They will not grow up to place more emphasis on Bible reading, prayer and Christian living than you do. At best, some will be a Christian at “your level.” But most, unfortunately, will be “less” inclined to Christian living than you.

With that in mind, are you giving your children THE BEST opportunity to grow up to be faithful Christians? Is their soul and their eternal destiny worth not living your Christian life to the absolute FULLEST?

Let me ask you a very simple question, “Are you more interested in seeing your child as an economic success, in sports and their social life than Spiritually excelling in the Lord?”

If you are uncertain in these matters, maybe you will need to know that you will see the results of your mentorship either elevate or scuttle their functionality, and you’ll only have yourself to congratulate.

I hope it gives you food for thought. Maybe its time for that uncomfortable discussion.

In Christian love

Dereck
